

Virtual Book Launch

Romanova, Valentyna. 2022. Decentralization and Multilevel Elections in Ukraine: Reform Dynamics and Party Politics in 2010–2021. ibidem Press.

Author: Dr Valentyna Romanova (University of “Kyiv-Mohyla academy” / Japan Association for Ukrainian Studies / COST network project Intergovernmental Coordination from Local to European Governance)

Prior to moving to Japan, Romanova was a Senior Consultant at Ukraine’s National Institute for Strategic Studies, team leader for the “Political Elites of Ukrainian Regions” project hosted by the University of Tokyo, DAAD Visiting Fellow at the University of Jena, as well as Chevening Scholar and Marie Curie Fellow at the University of Edinburgh.

She has co-edited five annual reviews of regional elections in the UK journal Regional & Federal Studies.

Her research has been published in Post-Soviet Affairs, Perspectives on European Politics and Society, Politics, Survival, Regional & Federal Studies, Vox Ukraine, Democratic Audit Blog, The Ideology and Politics Journal, Politychni doslidzhennia, and the Kyiv-Mohyla Law and Politics Journal, as well as in reports by Chatham House, the Bertelsmann Foundation, and the Wilson Center’s Kennan Institute.